February phrase of the month is “Seek first to understand, then to be understood”:

We need to know how to listen. It is the most important communication skill of all. Less than 10% is contained in the words we use. The rest comes from body language and the tone and feeling reflected in our voice. What a great blessing it would be if we could teach our kids how to listen while they're young!

Try to go one whole hour without talking even once. Instead, just watch the people around you and listen to what they are saying. Good luck! Think of someone in your life who you think is a good listener. Your grandma? Your Dad? Your best friend? What do they do that makes them a good listener? The next time one of your friends is sad notice the way he or she hold their body. Tell them you know they are sad and you want to help.
